Teresa Palmer has traveled a long way just to reach for a dream. In Australia, the young lady's quest for stardom started when she landed a leading role in the independent film "2:37", which was then followed by Australian films like "Restraint" and "December Boys". From Land Down Under, Palmer flew all the way to Hollywood and soon found herself in big-budgeted films like "Bedtime Stories", "The Sorcerer's Apprentice", "I Am Number Four" and "Take Me Home Tonight". Teresa Palmer: An Aussie's Voyage to Stardom lets you get to know this passionate Aussie more and takes you to her world full of interesting twists and turns! Learn from her life's lessons and be inspired how this young lady boldly faced her own series of ups and downs.

About the Author:

A Journalism graduate, Agatha Ravens finds joy in researching and writing books and academic papers. Being the only child, Agatha spent her childhood and teenage years in Jacksonville, Florida with her cousins playing board games and cooking pasta. When not busy, she volunteers to babysit her nephews while watching animated movies with them. A nature lover, she loves to walk around Jacksonville Riverwalk to marvel at the beauty of the river and the skyline of the city.
